

Summer School of the Russian Language and Culture

<http://www.narfu.ru/ifmk/ss/index.html>

The Institute of Philology and Cross-Cultural Communication is inviting you to the 8th Summer School of the Russian Language and Culture in Arkhangelsk, June 13-27, 2016.

We implement a unique idea – Arctic region-oriented Russian language study, including:

- The Land of Pomors: Traditions and Culture;
- Northern Texts;
- Past and Present of The Russian North;

We teach Russian to students with any language proficiency level:

- Elementary level/ basic level – you do not speak Russian at all or just begin to study the language;
- 1st certificate level – you are already familiar with basic rules of Russian grammar, you can read, speak and write in Russian;
- 2nd certificate level - you can speak Russian quite fluently, but want to perfect your language skills.

We guarantee:

- the development of your linguistic competence;
- highly-qualified teachers with strong background in teaching Russian as a foreign language;
- a unique teaching technique (intermediate language + authentic language environment);
- individual approach for each student by using authentic language material;
- additional subject-oriented courses by leading university professors;
- small groups (class size is limited to a maximum of 10 students);
- official university certificate stating the number of academic credits earned (3 ECTS);

We offer an interdisciplinary course program (60 academic hours) consisting of:

- language classes;
- additional subject-oriented modules (“Economics and Enterprise in The Russian North”, “Russian Politics and History”).

We organize a special program to expand your cultural knowledge in the authentic setting of the Russian North.

The program includes:

- excursions and visits to museums (to explore the wooden architecture, traditions and culture of the Pomor people), concerts and theatre performances;
- workshops, discussion clubs, round tables;
- integration into our university every-day life;
- tours and walks in Arkhangelsk.

Advantages of our Summer School in Arkhangelsk:

- authentic culture of the Russian North;
- “White nights” and the unique northern nature;
- the annual festival of street theatre performances;
- friendly volunteer assistants and hospitality of the Northern Russia.

Number of academic credits allocated – 3 ECTS

Tuition fee: 15 000 rubles (approx. 200 EUR),

Visa fee, Travel expenses, accommodation and lunch costs – covered by the applicant*

The application deadline: April 20, 2016

For more information, please refer to: <http://narfu.ru/ifmk/ss>

Contact person: Maxim Martynov,

e-mail: m.martynov@narfu.ru, tel: +7 960 018 53 03

Institute of Philology and Cross-Cultural Communication,
Northern (Arctic) Federal University,
Russia, Arkhangelsk, 7 Smolny Buyan

* You can apply for student fellowship support programs, e. g. www.barents.no – for students from Norway, www.cimo.fi/ohjelmat/first - for students from Finland, www.daad.de – for students from Germany. More information on scholarship support: <http://www.narfu.ru/en/studies/scholarships/>