

International Spring School on Psycholinguistics, Neurolinguistics and Clinical Linguistics

15-19 April 2019, Faculty of Philosophy, University of Novi Sad

The Faculty of Philosophy at the University of Novi Sad (Serbia) is delighted to invite you to take part in the International Spring School on Psycholinguistics, Neurolinguistics and Clinical Linguistics to be held at the University of Novi Sad from 15-19 April 2019. The Spring School is directed at graduate and advanced undergraduate students interested in learning about the neurocognitive foundations of language, about how to make their research ideas into concrete steps towards experimental designs, how to approach data collection and how to analyse data using experimental and statistical methods. The intensive short programme (30 hours) offers 3-hour courses in three interrelated disciplines, taught by experts from Denmark, France, Holland, Slovenia and Serbia.

The following teachers and topics are confirmed:

Introduction and Linguistics - Srdjan Popov (University of Groningen, Holland)
Language Acquisition - Mirjana Miric (Serbian Academy of Sciences and Arts, Serbia)
Neuroanatomy for linguists - Silvia Martinez Ferreiro (University of Copenhagen, Denmark)
Clinical linguistics I – Silvia Martinez Ferreiro (University of Copenhagen, Denmark)
Clinical linguistics II - Silvia Martinez Ferreiro (University of Copenhagen, Denmark)
Psycholinguistics - Dusica Filipovic Djurdjevic (University of Belgrade, Serbia)
Experimental design - Christina Manouilidou (University of Ljubljana, Slovenia)
Neuroimaging - Christina Manouilidou (University of Ljubljana, Slovenia)
Statistics for Linguists I - Seckin Arslan (University of Nice, France)
Statistics for Linguists II - Seckin Arslan (University of Nice, France)

The spring school is followed on April 20 2019 by the 7th edition of the Novi Sad workshop in Psycholinguistic, Neurolinguistic and Clinical Linguistic Research at the same venue (free of charge for applicants to the Spring School).

Further details about the workshop can be found at:
