

BIO

Mag. Dr. phil. Xaver Daniel Hergenröther is university assistant at the Center for Inter-American Studies (C.IAS) at the University of Graz, Austria.

He studied Romance/Spanish Studies at the University of Graz, Austria and the University of Bamberg, Germany (Cotutelle de thèse) and holds a 'Doctor philosophiae' degree from both universities. He wrote his doctoral thesis on the topic "The Reworking Process of the Past in Guatemala after the Civil War. Narration and Factuality in Archive, Literature and New Media".

His emphasis in research and teaching in Latin- and Inter-American Literary and Cultural Studies is on cultural representations of human rights in the Americas, the role of the author and cultural workers in political conflicts, and the creative production of literature and culture in exile.

RESEARCH AREAS

Cultural Representations

Human Rights

The Americas

Conflict Resolution

Latinidad