Call for Papers

The first international practical and scientific conference for students and PhD students

Digitalization in education – a step towards the successful professional realization

25 November 2021

Varna, Bulgaria

Overview

The conference is organized within the project "KP-06-H45/1"Digitalization and digital competencies in higher education and the labour market", funded by the National Research Fund.

The ambition of the organizers is to turn it into an annual event uniting the research activity of students and doctoral students not only from Bulgaria but also from abroad, with the support of their professors in the role of mentors and scientific consultants.

The conference aims to provoke the interest of students and PhD students in the current topic of digitalization in education, attracting them to research and sharing their attitudes, expectations and views on learning and working in the digital age.

Topics:

- Business and Management education in a digital environment – expectations and attitudes of students and PhD students to study and work in the digital age
- Contemporary digital technologies in Human Resource Management
- Digitalization and digital competencies in business and the public sector - challenges for modern employees, managers and entrepreneurs
- Ethical dilemmas, socially responsible and sustainable practices in the digital transformation of higher education and the labour market
- Digital transformation of the labour market and regulation of employer-employee relations
- Digital transformation in the legal system regulating business relations - challenges and trends
