

7th Novi Sad workshop on
Psycholinguistic, neurolinguistic and clinical linguistic research
(PNCLR)

This multidisciplinary workshop aims at bringing together language studies that can contribute to the discussion of

1. the neurocognitive foundation of language,
2. the characterization, assessment and diagnosis of language pathologies and
3. language processing.

High quality research describing original results of experimental and theoretical work in all areas of Psycholinguistics, Neurolinguistics and Clinical linguistics are invited for presentation.

We are happy to announce the following guest speaker:

Vesna Stojanovik (University of Reading, UK)

Venue:

The workshop will take place at the Faculty of Philosophy, University of Novi Sad, Serbia (dr Zorana Đinđića 2).
